

Remember the day that I went in care
Trust me when I say that life aint fair
I was going missing and I heard my nana crying
She thought I was out there dying

But I was just out there lurking
Because I told my bro I'd had enough of bergin'
But I gotta keep earning, that's my life
But sometimes still I'm like 'get the knife'

Yo haha, all these rappers are fakes
They all start crying when they're nicked by the jakes.
No hesitation, told my little bro to stay in education
Big bro doesn't want him in another sticky situation

Handcuffs on down at the station
You're better flying off to another location.
I still feel bad that they took me away
But I'm here to support you all the way.
